To the Family of Eric Herzberg Jr.,

Thank you so much for sharing the story of your son. All of your beautiful memories and silly, innocent photos really resonate with me. I am a little sister to a brother 3 years older than me, and I think the world of him. I could not possibly try to recreate the feeling of ever losing someone like him. Someone that's crazy good at video games, determined and driven, and even someone that likes to tackle you out of nowhere. I see him so much in Eric. Just purely someone you love. On Monday, my brother and I will be marching together in the Memorial Day Parade. I am honored to have the opportunity.

Thank you again so much for enlightening me on Eric's wonderful life.

Sincerely, Goldwyn Boyden
